REACH MALLORCA

With more than 160 participants, this was not only the largest ReachMallorca outreach to date, but also the most powerful! Every morning we had teaching, worship and small group times as usual. In the afternoons we often enjoyed free time by the sea. In the evenings we met for prayer before taking our faith to the places where it was least expected! Every day tourists chose to give their lives to Jesus! For the first time we celebrated baptisms in the sea on several evenings. many media networks and the police were favorable to us, and local churches joined forces with us. Here we will share some of our experiences.

A DIFFERENT ATMOSPHERE

The RTL reporter said: "I've also been to your beach services privately: you can definitely feel something!" They filmed the service where more than a dozen people brought a candle to the cross as a sign that they wanted to give their lives to Jesus.

The reporter concluded: "It is very impressive and moving what you are doing here!"

During the first service, I approached a boy who had come out of the Megapark and was eating his Turkish kebab. He sat right in front of the stage. He had tears in his eyes because he was overwhelmed by the love that reigns here. He understood the message of the gospel correctly for the first time today. He was very thoughtful. We will keep in touch - he lives only ten minutes from our home in Germany.

After the service, we talked to four girls from Austria. They were very touched and wanted a Bible. They even asked how to pray and I was able to explain it to them. They were very open and said it was their first time here at Ballermann and that was enough for them. "The Ballermann is really terrible, but here at the service there is a completely different atmosphere."

I was out with the TV crew and they said I should talk to someone right now. What pressure! I approached a couple who enthusiastically told us that we prayed for them three years ago. They came to Ballermann today in the hope of meeting us here again. The person who had prayed for them at the time actually came along and even remembered their names. The couple was very touched and I was overwhelmed!

SIGNS, MIRACLES, HEALINGS

I was on Schinken Street with the “miracle chair”, and a man with back pain and legs of unequal length sat down on it. I was able to pray for him and commanded in Jesus’ name that one leg grow. The lengthening was noticeable! He thought I was pulling his leg, but actually Jesus did it!

When asking God who he wanted them to meet today, two girls got the impression, "Thomas, red sports shirt, black fanny pack, injured right leg". Then they met a Thomas with leg pain at Ballermann, but he felt overwhelmed and walked away from them. But later when they went back to the hotel, they met another Thomas who fit all of these keywords exactly and was relieved of his pain on the spot! The man and the girls were beside themselves at this evident work of God!

While talking with a woman, I asked about her relationship with her mother. She started crying and telling me how her mother cheated on her father and that it destroyed the whole family.

She asked me how I knew, to which I replied that the Holy Spirit told me. Then I could explain the gospel to her. We had a long and deep conversation.

Four girls came and we started talking. I asked if anyone had knee pain and one had exactly that. I prayed for her and the pain was gone! The friends couldn't believe it, but they said they definitely wanted to come to the beach service.

DECISIONS TO FOLLOW JESUS

A man sat live-streaming throughout the Beach service, crying, caught up in what he saw and heard. Afterwards, in tears, he said that he wanted to give his life to Jesus right then and there.

I spoke to a young man and told him about Jesus. During the drama, in the scene where the main character wants to kill himself, this young man started crying. He said that a few months earlier, he had experienced the same thing, and had also tried to kill himself. Now he said that he wanted to give his life to Jesus. He said that he never expected that he would go home from Ballermann changed - as a new follower of Jesus.

Our video producer was more than just a cameraman. On the very first evening, he reported enthusiastically about how two boys he filmed made a decision to follow Jesus. "Did seeing all of this here affect you?" I asked the cameraman. "Yes", he replied. "You've already heard a lot about Jesus, do you also want to make a decision and give your life to Jesus?" I asked. "Yes!" he responded. We went to the beach and had a conversation about how he can start his life with Jesus and what that means concretely. I loved it! I prayed directly for the Holy Spirit to come, and he sat there with tears in his eyes. This is now his third year coming to the beach services, since he now always schedules his holidays around this time. We exchanged numbers and will keep in touch.

NEW: BAPTISMS IN THE SEA

Three days earlier we were on Schinken Street, a very lively party area with bars and beer houses near the Ballermann. We had the "miracle chair" with us, and we prayed for a man with a problem in his leg. It wasn't healed directly, but he was still very touched by it and we were able to talk to each other for a long time. The next day he came to the beach service, where he started crying and gave his life to Jesus. Today he came back again and was baptized just a few hours before he flew back to Germany.

During the call to the cross, a man came who had met us several times. He had checked and researched everything, had asked many questions, and today he was ready to give his life completely to Jesus. He wrote home: "I've been totally changed here in Mallorca!"

During the beach sermon, I challenged the people to be a living sacrifice for Jesus, to go "all in" and give him permission to do whatever he wants with our lives. Over twenty tourists came forward and dedicated their lives to God, sealing their names on the plaque. Long conversations ensued, and many people asked for prayer and received the Holy Spirit. Two British women came to our morning service. They tearfully testified how they met our biker friends on the ferry, then got involved in an accident, and the "Holy Riders" came to them and helped them. Both women gave their lives to Jesus. One woman, with a cast on from the accident, reported from the stage how Jesus had freed her inwardly over the last few days. Her friend was also freed from demonic burdens. In the afternoon they celebrated the baptism of a female biker from England.

In the evening we had two baptisms again! An hour earlier they were still in the Megapark. The woman cried out that she now wants to be a new person. You should have seen the joy she radiated!

I saw a woman yesterday who was very touched by the service. Today she came back with her whole family. They had a long talk and I was able to baptize them. With tears, the wife said that she wanted to start a new life with God, that she wanted to die to her old life, that she wanted to give herself completely to God and that she wanted to be an example for her husband too. It was totally beautiful and emotional. God's joy for this woman was palpable!

A man who was baptized has a very devout girlfriend at home who has often dragged him to church. Here he's been partying with a dozen friends, but got caught up in our beach church services. The day before, one of our children gave him a cross of light, which touched him deeply and he decided to live for Jesus! Despite his friends making fun of him, he wanted to make it fixed and public. His girlfriend was there at the baptism crying via live stream and said: "I thought going to Mallorca was a very stupid idea, but Jesus made something wonderful out of it!"

A young man, visibly moved, listened to the message at the beach service. "I see so much love in your eyes!" He took our "Miracle Mallorca" booklet home and, alone in his house, made a decision to give his life to Jesus. It took him over half an hour for this prayer because it had such a deep impact on him. The next day he came to us and said, "I was baptized here yesterday and I want to join you today and share my faith with others." He brought his sister and niece to all subsequent beach services. His niece was so excited about what being a Christian could look like, that she said she also wants to go on the outreach next year.

TROOPS IN ALL DIRECTIONS

Our team of ten Ibiza pioneers has successfully "spied" on the neighboring island! The mood there is even more wicked (naked grandpa in a bikini top, having his picture taken with passers-by), prouder ("I don't need a miracle, I'm a multi-millionaire!") and more lost (woman runs away screaming: "God hates me, I'm a sinner!"). But we prayed, shared faith and worshiped until three in the morning! A local DJ manager with countless VIP bracelets sat down crying in our "miracle chair" and said: "People here need this. Don't stop. Please come back!" And that's exactly what we intend to do! 24-7 has been praying on the island for 20 years and the YWAMers became our friends right away! We have found a man of peace - Adrian an Anglican minister who blessed us and let us sleep on his roof. He told us to come again next year and stay longer.

As a small group, we spent several evenings and nights in the red-light district. We spoke to three prostitutes and the women were totally touched and open to prayer. Everyone said they wanted to get out of prostitution and start a family. We gave them flyers with contacts from the local aid organization. Another time we met six women and were allowed to sing with them and gave them gifts, which they were very happy about. A woman recognized our local leader and immediately ran up to her and hugged her tightly. Three women saw this and said they would like to be hugged with that kind of love too, which we happily did for them.

Our team who traveled west to Cala Ratjada, were a bit disappointed on the way home. But then they struck up a conversation with three women from Berlin who made a very serious decision to give their lives to Jesus.

We were out and about several times at night praying and serving as street angels in Magaluf, to offer drunk people water and accompany them to the hotel, to help the injured get on their feet, or to give practical help to the abandoned and robbed. During our time there, a man in his mid-thirties died after a fight. His brother - a billionaire known as the Hemp King - said on Inselradio that if necessary he would buy this party mile and close it forever - these clubs were just too dangerous for the people.

Our support act, rapper Lorenzo di Martino, met his former classmate at Ballermann, the biggest thug from his school days. He was able to explain the whole story of God to him. Then Lorenzo offered to pray for his former classmate and see if he could hear something from God for him. He had a striking impression for him. When asked if he wanted to repent and have this new life with Jesus, the former classmate couldn't handle it. He started sweating and didn't know what was happening. They agreed to read the Bible together in two weeks.

The receptionist cried with emotion and joy when she heard that we were coming back. And the hotel manager said to our leaders that we belong to their family.

DIVINE ENCOUNTERS

During a prayer time for the Reach Mallorca School that we want to found, a leader received the word "Heli". A little later we were introduced to a woman named "Heli," who sobbed and told us that she had received a vision from God over twenty years ago to found a missionary school on the island. She put us in contact with a woman who wants to sell her large ranch at a bargain price and whose desire is that it be used for the kingdom of God.

My wife and I went for a walk one morning while resting at Malle after the outreach. We met Dieter Bohlen and were able to tell him a little about Jesus.

The day before we had talked about the fact that we would like to have Austrian participants in our outreach events. Then a man came out of the crowd and introduced himself as the chairman of an evangelical council in Austria. He was just blown away by what we were doing. "I have dreamed exactly of what you are doing here! Next year I'll be bringing a whole group of Austrians with me!"

GOD'S SUSTAINABLE FRUIT

A woman who worked as a promoter at Ballermann years ago chose to follow Jesus, was invited to joining ReachMallorca and has now been on our outreach with us this year as a small group leader!

A church planter from Germany reported during the outreach that a guy had turned up at their service with a party Bible that he had received from us.

A co-worker couple reports that they have experienced more with God in these four days than in their whole lives before!

WE ARE FOUNDING A SCHOOL!

One participant reports: "Why am I here at ReachMallorca? I met a person in my church in Germany who lives out her faith to the fullest – she decided to give her life to Jesus at one of the beach services in Mallorca and is now even writing a book about her experiences with Jesus."

Last year we met a young man celebrating at Ballermann and talked to him about God. His mother writes in a comment in an online newspaper report: "My son was in Mallorca last year and got extremely drunk. Then Jesus met him. No alcohol or drugs since then. Now he is one of those 160 young people who tell about Jesus there. I'm so happy for him because his life took such a positive turn and he has become free."

We sincerely thank the more than 750 intercessors who lifted us up during our outreach. We praise God for everything he has done - all glory belongs to him! And we think he wants to do a lot more. During the next ReachMallorca outreach, July 26th to August 6th, 2023, we are planning to send pioneer troops to Ibiza, Lloret de Mar and to different target groups. And the biggest innovation is the brand-new five-month "ReachMallorcaSchool", which will open its doors on the island in April 2023. More details about the school, registration forms, and information about how to donate can be found online. God bless and see you soon!
